Organza tea-length dress with metallic embroidery and ribbon accent at waist

This is the last bridal gown designed by our beloved fashion designer, Galina. We will be in our final countdown after this. I hope you have seen enough beautiful wedding dresses in Galina series featured here. Let's dissect the beauty of the above dress. A tea-length dress is always appealing in the sense that it reflects the casual elegance which is hard to achieve. How so? Galina has to embellish it with metallic embroidery and a very lovely ribbon tied at waist. In brief, this wedding dress is so sensual and suitable for brides who look elegance and glittering, love simplicity and casualness.
